Major Maxson Lucky, Misses Crocodiles

"This was a great way to end a year," said Air Force Major Edwin R. Maxson of Austin, Texas, after Army rescue crews fished him out of a crocodile-infested lake 100 miles northeast of Saigon. "I learned later in the evening that members of the First Air Cavalry Division killed a six-foot crocodile within 15 feet of the place where I went into the water."

Maxson's unscheduled swim began when enemy gunners rididled his AIE Skyraider. He was flying support for units of the First Cavalry Division last Friday.

Major Maxson telephoned his wife in Austin, Texas, Tuesday and she then informed his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Maxson in Canal Point, the same night Major Maxson called his family from the officers club in Saigon to report that he didn't even receive a scratch!

Moody Story To Be Shown In Pahokee

"Riding the Pulpit," a new 90-minute, dramatic, feature film will be shown at the First Baptist Church in Pahokee at 6:00 p.m. on Sunday, January 8, 1967. This film was photographed in beautiful Eastern color in West Palm Beach, the home of Dr. Jess Moody, whose life story provides the incidents around which the film was made.

"Riding the Pulpit" picks up the Moody story at 4:00 a.m. in a small Texas town as Jess is beginning the delivery of the morning paper. It traces his life through college and seminary, to the pastorate of a large church in Florida.

Viewers will weep over his confrontation with a jilted soldier who has just returned from service overseas. Jess' solution to the problem of the town drunk, not only provides humor, but could well be a model action for pastors who are often called to deal with inebriated citizens. Action photography aboard "Salibald the Sinner" provides beauty and excitement.

"Riding the Pulpit" brings forth the unforgettable lesson that it is not necessary for any pastor to remain in ministerial mediocrity and be satisfied just preaching second-rate sermons to an overfed generation of materialistic minded pew polishers which can only result in a tarnished image of the most important man in any given community—the pastor.

Billy Zeoli, President of Gospel Films, Inc., said recently, "Many teenagers, who are as yet undecided as to their future, will prepare for the ministry after seeing the inspiring story of Dr. Jess Moody. This cannot help but provide a desperately needed inspiration and influence for our generation."

"Riding the Pulpit" is the latest release of Gospel Films, Inc., of Muskegon, Michigan, whose productions are now being shown in 27 languages in 113 countries around the world.

Rainbows Hold Regular Meet Monday, Jan. 2

The regular meeting of the Order of Rainbow for Girls, Pahokee Assembly 16, was held on Monday, January 2. The big event of the evening was the choosing of Romeo for the Assembly. This was conducted during Pam Ursry's term as Worthy Advisor, September through December. Seeing as how the contest ended with a tie, the Pahokee Assembly now has two Romeos, Tim Gillis and Dennis Maynor. The girls were happy, as the project was to raise money for a Rainbow sign for the assembly and with the aid of the Order of Eastern Star, their goal was reached. These Romeos will be installed at the installation of the next Worthy Advisor.

Election of officers was held for the new term with installation being held on Saturday, January 14, at 8:00 p.m.

A number of Masons and Eastern Star were present along with two out-of-town guests, who were the Worthy Advisor's aunt, Mrs. D. L. Fender of Tampa, and Major Clarence Langford of North Bay, Canada.

This was the last night for Mother Advisor, Marie Hughes, who has served the Pahokee Assembly for six years in this capacity.

Pam Ursry, Worthy Advisor, was given a courtesy by the officers of the Assembly and a gift from the assembly following her retiring speech.

All regular business being taken care of, refreshments were served by Mrs. Marie Hughes, retiring Mother Advisor.

Millions Of $ Realized By Nurserymen

Florida flowers and plants brought growers and nurserymen sales of $71,097,000 last year, a gain of six per cent over the previous year, a shade better than the national average increase, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce reported in its Weekly Business Review released last Saturday.

"Cut flowers, especially gladioli, chrysanthemums, orchids and roses made up a large part of the Florida sales volume. Other products included ornamental plants, flowering trees, potted plants and nursery stock of fruits, berries and nuts. Native Christmas trees and holiday greens are also included.

"The national beautification program should result in further expansion of Florida's plant and flower business. The state already stands third with only California and Pennsylvania producing more."

"The cut chrysanthemum volume was 14 per cent over the previous season and potted chrysanthemums were up four per cent. Gladiolus shipments ran about the same as the previous year."

Star-spangled present with a future

Here's a Christmas present the youngsters on your shopping list can't lose, break, wear out, or get tired of.

It's a U.S. Savings Bond—the gift that grows while they grow. Practical. And appreciated, even by younger children. Makes a child feel important to be entrusted with such an adult-looking document. As the years pass, the money helps pay for important things like college, marriage, and emergencies. And until they do cash it in, the Bond itself is always there to remind them of your gift.

In the meantime, Uncle Sam will be using the money to help make their future secure in other ways. (Which is especially important now when so many of our fighting men are committed in Vietnam.)

Give Bonds this Christmas. Buy them where you do your banking and avoid the shopping crowds. Prices start at $18.75 for a $25 Bond.

Registered Nurses In Great Demand

The registered nurse today is probably more in demand than at any previous time in history. Many hospitals are taking advertisements in newspapers far removed from their own area in order to attract nurses to their staff. In fact, the nursing school graduate or the established registered nurse of today has a multiplicity of potential employers to choose from that is probably unmatched in any other profession.

How then can an organization such as the United States Air Force hope to attract sufficient number of nurses to maintain its Nurse Corps?

Local Air Force Recruiting Sergeant Joe Bloxom states that the task isn't easy but then it never was. "The main problem," according to Sgt. Bloxom, "is letting nurses know exactly what the Air Force can offer them. Many of the so called 'new benefits' that nurses are being offered today by potential employers, the Air Force has offered for years. Many more, of course, are still only found in the Air Force."

Sgt. Bloxom advised local nurses that, with so many positions to choose from, they owe it to themselves to get the facts on all that are available. This most definitely includes the Air Force, of course. Information may be obtained from Sgt. Bloxom at the Air Force Recruiting office, 3238 South Dixie in West Palm Beach, Phone 833-5133. Sgt. Bloxom may also be contacted at the Selective Service office in Belle Glade each Tuesday at 1:00 p. m. and each Thursday at 10:00 a. m.

Now— U. S. Savings Bonds Pay More Interest

4.15% when held to maturity

Higher interest on the Bonds you already own, too!

U. S. Savings Bonds are a better way to save than ever

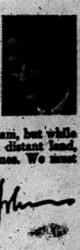

Because now all Series E and Series H Bonds bought after December 1, 1965, will earn the new, higher interest rate of 4.15% when held to maturity. That's only 7 years for Series E — 9 months quicker than before. All H Bond interest checks will be larger beginning in June 1966.

And your outstanding Bonds will earn more, too, from now on. So, you don't have to cash in your present Bonds to get the attractive new rate.

Ask about buying Bonds where you work or bank. For America's future. And yours.

"Today, none of us can remain aloof on the sidelines."

"Today, above all, is a time for all Americans to rededicate themselves to the spirit that animated the Minutemen of Concord, who were the very heart of the Savings Bond program. For today, as at the founding of our nation, it is freedom which is again at stake. Not all of us are called upon to fight in the jungles of Vietnam, but while our men are there, in the front line of a distant land, none of us can remain aloof on the sidelines. We must all do our share — to support our men in Vietnam. Our way is open to all Americans through the Savings Bond program."

A message from the Treasury of a free people

How to speak out for freedom today

Free men have never gone in much for silence. Even before the first thirteen States became United States, men were speaking for freedom loud and clear.

Today Americans speak out for freedom many ways—in Congress, in local government, in neighborhood activities. Some speak out for freedom in other languages, in other lands. And millions of Americans speak out for freedom every time they buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

Every Savings Bond you buy is an investment in freedom. While you're saving money for your own family's future, you're helping Uncle Sam tend to the business of keeping men free today.

Perhaps you don't speak out for freedom in the same tone of voice when you buy a Bond as Patrick Henry did in his famous speech. But you speak every bit as surely. And every bit as proudly.

Why not speak out for freedom now? Buy Bonds at the bank or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

Keep freedom in your future with
